

sweatpant slump

Victoria's Secret $80

The long winter days are coming and my closet is slowly looking emptier everyday. The same old dresses and the same old jeans lay exhausted on my floor. The school day drags on and while sitting for six hours, I don't want to be in something uncomfortable.

The only sensible choice comes from my drawer of sweatpants and sweatshirts. Sweatpants and sweatshirts just hang on me, covering me up and keeping me warm in the freezing classrooms.

And they come in every color you could ever imagine. Victoria's Secret PINK sweatpants may have given sweatpants everywhere a push to stardom, but Victoria's Secret $40 sweatpants are still made out of the same material as Wal-Mart's $7 ones, and since they are only sweatpants, I'll save my other $33 for new shoes.

I don't see any other point to sweatpants as they don't really look that great and they show everyone that you're a tad lazy. But sometimes, it's just one of those days. It's only the beginning of the long winter though, so don't get into the lazy habit too quickly. - katie ehle

Walmart $15

HANNAH BAUER

SOPHOMORE

describe your style:

favorite store to shop at:

favorite thing to shop for:

don't spend lots on:

favorite thing to wear:

lots of variety

Forever 21

shoes

pants

Converse

$20 jacket from Maurices

$12 jeans from Forever 21

$30 shoes from Target

Total Price:
about $62

YOUR STYLE