new directors
bring a new play to the stage

If you're looking for some good entertainment why not check out the school's rendition of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance". This musical comedy is about a boy, who says he wants to intern for pilots, but there is a mistake and they think he wants to intern with pirates, which leads to many mishaps and fun adventures.

Directing the production is new music instructor David Shellenberger. "This is my first directing experience, but I have seen the show several times, so I know a little bit how things should look," said Shellenberger.

Joining Shellenberger is English teacher Jacki Papstein as assistant director. "This is my first experience with the show personally, but I am the fourth generation in my family to be involved with the show," Papstein said.

The show will run from Nov. 14-15 and possible the 16 with a Sunday matinee. - Thomas Horky
